Intensive advanced training in gastroenterology.

“My interest in science and desire to help others made medicine a natural choice for me. During medical school at Mt. Sinai in New York, I discovered gastroenterology and decided to specialize in digestive health.

“After earning my MD, I spent several years in fellowship programs at the University of Toronto and at the University of Pennsylvania. This intensive advanced training gave me an excellent foundation of knowledge, skill and experience that I continue to build on today. I stay on the leading edge of my specialty in order to give you the most up-to-date, comprehensive care available.”

Helping you feel comfortable, relaxed and confident in my care.

“For me, gastroenterology is the perfect combination of science, technology and patient care. I am here not only to diagnose and treat your digestive health concerns but also to talk with you and get to know you as an individual. I enjoy spending time with you, listening to your concerns and helping you feel comfortable, relaxed and confident in the care I provide.”

Compassionate, patient-centered care.
