Advanced training from a leading gastroenterology program.

"When I did my gastroenterology rotations in medical school, I liked that we were able to solve problems for patients and help them feel better, often right away. Once I decided to specialize in gastroenterology, I set about getting the best possible education at SUNY Health Science Center at Brooklyn. The school's gastroenterology program is one of the most clinically intensive in the country and prepared me to give my patients complete, high-quality care for their digestive health concerns."

Compassionate, patient-centered care.

"I know that when you need to see a gastroenterologist, you might be worried about your health or nervous about a test or procedure. I do all I can to set your mind at ease. I'll always take time to talk with you about your situation and answer all your questions. I want you to be informed about your health and to feel as comfortable as possible during your care with us."

Dr. Solaiman has lived in Maryland most of his life. He enjoys sports, the latest technology, art and, most importantly, spending time with his wife and their two children.
